

Lillian Jackson Braun is a popular mystery writer. Many people enjoy reading her books about an amateur detective and his cats. The cats, Koko and Yum Yum, know how to make themselves at home anywhere.

It was their first night in the cabin by the creek. Qwilleran placed the cats' blue cushion on one bunk. They settled down contentedly, while he retired to the other bunk.

Sometime during the night, the arrangement changed; in the morning Qwilleran was sharing his pillow with Yum Yum, and Koko was snuggled in the crook of his knee.

(Braun 123)

Works Cited

Ackerman, Jennifer. "Cranes." National Geographic Apr. 2004: 44.

Anson, Chris M., and Robert A. Schwegler. The Longman Handbook for Writers and Readers. 3rd ed.
New York: Addison-Wesley Educational Publications, Inc., 2003.

Braun, Lillian Jackson. The Cat Who Went Up the Creek. New York: Jove Books, 2003.

Hoggatt, Jack P., and Jon A. Shank. Applied Computer Keyboarding. 6th ed. Cincinnati: South-Western Cengage Learning, 2009.

"Mesa Verde." National Park Service. 13 July 2004 <<http://www.nps.gov/meve/index.htm>>.